The 2019 Swiss Academy of Ophthalmology Innovation Prize was awarded to Prof. David Granet and Prof. Ken Nishal during the Annual Congress in Lucerne for having founded the World Society of Paediatric Ophthalmology & Strabismus, which enhances the lives of children with eye disorders and those with strabismus throughout the world. Both co-founders recognized that expertise in pediatric ophthalmology and strabismology resides all over the world. Thus, the WSPOS gives a voice to all pediatric ophthalmologists and strabismologists all over the world and helps to establish this subspecialty also in the most remote and underprivileged areas where the need is greatest.
